

2016 FRS Youth Tour – Washington, D.C. – June 2016

Local Students Tour Washington, D.C.

SkyLine sponsored two area high school juniors – Grace Miller and Quentin Wellington of Ashe County – for the Foundation for Rural Service Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. in June. The Youth Tour introduced the telecommunications industry to students from rural America within a legislative context. Aside from the educational aspects of this trip, students also had the opportunity to tour many of the historical sites in the nation's capital. The students were among 115 high school juniors selected from rural America to participate in this five-day program.

FRS promotes, educates and advocates to the public, rural telecommunications issues in order to sustain and enhance the quality of life within communities throughout rural America. The foundation was established by the National Telecommunications Cooperative Association (NTCA), of which SkyLine is a member.

SkyLine Wins National Award for Annual Meeting Report

SkyLine received national recognition during the NTCA PR and Marketing Conference in Charleston, South Carolina, in early May. The TeleChoice Awards annually recognize excellence in NTCA member company annual reports, customer newsletters, print publications, marketing campaigns, websites and local video content. The competition is open to all NTCA members, and each main category consists of three divisions, based on access lines served by the entrant. SkyLine received a First-Place Award for Annual Reports among companies with access lines of 10,000 or more.

The entry was judged in the production category "outsourced," where the creative aspect was implemented with assistance from a consultant or outside

Coming Home from Co-op Camp

This June, SkyLine sponsored two Ashe County High School students to attend the annual Cooperative Leadership Camp at White Lake.

Caroline Current and Brandt Denniston are pictured at the Greensboro stop on their way home from White Lake. From all accounts, this five-day program was a rewarding experience, and when these students are high school seniors, they also are eligible to apply for the $1,000 Cooperative Leadership Scholarship. More details about this year's program participants will be featured in the September newsletter.

We Relay for Life!

If it's summer, it's also time to support Relay for Life, the signature fund-raising event of the American Cancer Society. SkyLine has been a longtime supporter of Relay, and our employees play an active role in supporting this effort each year. During June and July, area Relay for Life events have taken place across the region, and pictured are employees and their families who participated in the Relay event in Alleghany County on June 17. We'll share more area event photos and more about our employees' fund-raising efforts to support the fight against cancer in next month's issue.

Lightning: What to Do, Before, During and After

Before a lightning storm: Unplug your cordless phone, answering machine and modems from their jacks and electrical outlets. We recommend this even if you use surge protectors because those devices cannot guarantee 100-percent protection.

During a storm: Stay off the telephone unless you need to make an emergency call. Lightning does strike telephone lines, and there is a chance that you could be hurt if you are on the phone.

Call North Carolina One Call System Before You Dig

Know what's below.
Call before you dig.

If you have an outside project in your plans before summer ends and it requires digging, do yourself a favor and call the N.C. One Call System first. Now, you can reach One-Call System by dialing '8-1-1' from any landline phone or any cell phone that is connected to a tower in North Carolina. And, our Shady Valley customers also can contact the Tennessee One-Call Center by dialing 8-1-1 from their homes or businesses located in the 739 telephone exchange. When you contact the One-Call System, you need to provide the following information:

- County and town
- Location of work – street address
- Nearest cross street
- Area to be marked
- Date and time of excavation or digging
- Type of work
- Your name and number or the contractor's contact information

If you don't call first, you may end up with environmental damage, interruption of service, job or project delays or the potential for accidents and injuries. When you contact One Call first, our personnel will come and mark the utility lines in your work area. You can then dig safely without the fear of damaging telephone lines.

Enjoy the remainder of your gardening and landscaping projects this summer, but remember to be safe and call the One Call System before you dig.

After the storm: If you notice static on your line, make sure that a damaged cordless phone, computer or satellite dish isn't causing it. To test, just unplug all equipment from the jacks and electrical outlets. Wait a minute and plug in a standard non-cordless phone. If the static is gone, you can assume your other equipment is causing the problem and may be damaged.

If you have static on the line and know your equipment isn't causing it, call us! Please don't wait, assuming that there is a more universal problem that we know about.
